IN PERILOUS POSITION.

Provisions Aboard American Fishing Vessels Also Very Low.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 3.—According to reports from Bay of Islands, on the west coast of Newfoundland, the ten American fishing vessels, which have been frozen in the ice field there since Jan. 17, are in a perilous position owing to the ice floes drifting after a severe storm on Tuesday night. The vessels' provisions are also running out and the crews have been put on short rations. The whole settlement of 3,000 people at Bay Islands is dangerously short of provisions and much anxiety prevails. A steamer with provisions will probably be sent to the rescue.

RESIDENTS TERRIFIED.

Earthquake in Montana Causes a Landslide.

Kalispell, Mont., April 3.—The residents of Helena Flats, five miles north of here, were terrified by an earthquake. At a point on Whitefish river where the disturbance occurred over five acres of bluff land was carried a distance of 600 feet and deposited in the channel of the river. The dam is 300 feet long and no trace of the former channel can be seen. The water is backing up and flooding bottom lands. The shock caused houses to shake and dishes to fall from tables and shelves.

* PROMINENT MEN FIGHT.

Senator J. E. Clark and Congressman Brundige Come to Blows.

Little Rock, Ark., April 3.—A fight took place here in front of the Capitol hotel on one of the most prominent streets of the city between United States Senator J. E. Clark and Congressman Brundige. The quarrel resulted over a statement given to a newspaper reporter about two weeks ago. Senator Clark struck Mr. Brundige two blows over the head, which were promptly returned by Mr. Brundige.

The men were separated before either was seriously hurt.

STARTLING PHENOMENON.

Crater of Volcano Reflected Upon Mountain of Clouds.

Kingston, St. Vincent, April 3.—The last eruption of the volcano Soufriere was the longest and considered geologically the most interesting. It lasted from March 21 until the morning of March 30. The volcano became again active on the night of March 30, when a startling phenomenon was witnessed. The crater, appearing like an electric arc, was reflected upon the mountains of clouds. The Soufriere continues to show signs of disturbance.

WANTS ANOTHER BATTLE.

McGovern Anxious to Fight Young Corbett Once More.

San Francisco, April 2.—Young Corbett and Terry McGovern had a meeting at which the latter solicited another match for the championship. Corbett said he intended to engage in a theatrical tour for some months and at the end of his stage venture he would consider the proposition. Harris, the manager of McGovern, in a statement, said that while he did not believe the timekeeper had any dishonest motive in the recent fight, still he was of the opinion that the watch holder had been mistaken in calling off seconds in which McGovern was on the floor. Harris said he thought that Corbett was too heavy for McGovern, having gained several pounds after weighing in, yet he was willing to take chances of another meeting of the pugilists.

CONSIDERS BILLS.

House Spends Most of the Day in Committee of the Whole.

ST. PAUL, April 2.—Senator Horton's retaliatory insurance bill squeezed through after the hardest and most bitter fight of the entire session, the senator from Ramsey defeating the powerful insurance lobby in the face of the fiercest opposition.

The bill hung fire for three hours and kept the senate in session until long after the noon hour.

The bill provides that Minnesota may keep insurance companies of other states out of Minnesota, when other states have barred Minnesota companies without legitimate reason. It took three roll calls to get out enough votes to pass the measure.

Senator Laybourn's bill exempting all fraternal insurance companies from taxation, garnishment and attachment was passed.

Senator Collette's bill reviving the old statute allowing special legislation has been passed without opposition.

The Ofstun bill to establish a state fish hatchery at Glenwood was recommended for passage by the senate finance committee.

The senate has recommended for passage the Morgan bill codifying the game laws of the state. The $50,000 appropriation has been cut out, and as adopted the measure establishes a non-resident license fee of $25 and a residence license at 50 cents.

A flank attack on the state dairy commissioner was a feature of the house session.

Most of the day was spent in considering bills in committee of the whole.

A flurry was created during the consideration of S. F. 256, a bill to prevent the adulteration of dairy products and to reorganize the dairy and food commissioner's office, when Mr. Carlson offered an amendment for a board of three to appoint all dairy and cheese factory inspectors, the board to consist of the dairy commissioner, the professor of husbandry at the state agricultural school and the president of the dairymen's association. The amendment was lost.

Mr. Fryberger's joint resolution for a special joint committee to investigate and prepare a bill to put all county and state officers on a salary basis, who are now compensated with fees, was amended by the author by adding "as to such offices as are practicable." The resolution was then adopted.

Senator Ferris' bill, allowing any taxpayer to enjoin the collection of county taxes levied in excess of legal limits, and require the reduction of such taxes, by suit in the district court, was the only bill on the house calendar and was passed.

Burns' bill to abolish township road overseers and road taxes in labor was voted down.

The house spent the afternoon on a junket to the state university, leaving for Minneapolis on special interurban cars at 2 o'clock.

The programme included a reception at the armory building on the university campus, with speeches and a banquet at the West hotel in the evening.

Smith's bill to allow state banks of deposit to establish savings departments, as amended, not to apply to St. Paul or Minneapolis, was vigorously attacked by Mr. Gillette.

The amendment, exempting St. Paul and Minneapolis, was stricken out, but another was adopted by Mr. Shearer, providing that state banks receiving accounts must pay out the same upon demand, without claiming any thirty days or other notice. The bill was recommended to pass.

The university and normal school people showed that they were not without hope in their efforts to get away from the state board of control, for Mr. Perley introduced a bill, by request of the governor, to affect only those schools.

W. I. Nolan introduced a new juvenile court bill as a substitute for a previous measure by him, with some necessary corrections.

HARD FIGHT IN HOUSE

COLE BILL SENT TO THE CALENDAR AFTER A FIERCE STRUGGLE.

SENATOR DU TOIT SAVES SENATOR WILSON'S BILL FROM DEFEAT.

ST. PAUL, April 3.—Representative Cole got his bill designed to secure an equitable assessment and taxation of cut logs to the calendar, and incidentally won the hardest house fight of the session.

Mr. Cole's bill provides that all logs and timber cut in any county in the state shall be listed and assessed for taxation in that county, without reference to residence of the owner or the place of manufacture or sale. Boom companies are prohibited from releasing logs on which taxes are delinquent. A portion of the house membership will insist that Executive Agent Fullerton, of the game and fish commission, comply with the request of the house for an itemized statement of the receipts from sales of confiscated game, nets, guns, etc.

Mr. Von Wald, in the house, called up the claim of Expert Accountant Wallace Hines in the capitol commission investigation, and it was allowed after a substantial cut.

Mr. Simmons moved to amend the claim, reducing the pay from $15 to $10 a day, which was adopted by a vote of 52 to 25. The claim was then allowed. The claim was cut down from $1,161.75 to $821.17.

The Shepard bill dividing the Forty-third senatorial district, Minneapolis, and S. F. 256, reorganizing and extending powers of dairy and food department passed the house.

Passage in Doubt.

The Smith bill, to allow state banks to engage in a savings bank business, received 66 ayes and 38 nays, but there was much doubt as to whether it had passed or not.

Speaker Babcock was in doubt about the number of votes necessary to pass the bill. On his suggestion, Attorney General Douglass was asked for an opinion as to whether the bill was such a banking bill as required 80 votes, or two-thirds of the whole house, for passage.

Representative W. A. Nolan reported that arrangements had been made that each member of the legislature be allowed one ticket of admission to the house chamber on Saturday, the day of the president's visit, for his wife, son or daughter. Legislative employees and state officers would also be admitted, making the total number of admissions 621.

Judge Wilson's bill to place the examination of railway books for the purpose of taxation entirely in the hands of the railway and warehouse commission was indefinitely postponed by the house.

DAMON AND PYTHIAS.

Du Toit Yields to Plea of Senator Wilson and Saves a Bill.

There was a touching spectacle of the Damon-Pythias brand in the senate. Senator Wilson's bill appropriating $5,000 for a state reformatory for women was under consideration. The roll was called, and the bill lacked several votes of enough to pass. Some fifteen senators added their votes on the second call, and most of them were in the negative, and the bill had but 31 votes.

Just at this juncture Senator Wilson arose, and with a most peculiar smile, said, in a pleading voice: "Who will be kind enough to give me one more vote?"

As he finished the sentence, Du Toit said: "Du Toit votes yes."

Du Toit and Wilson served together in the house in 1873, and this fact gave the unusual incident some significance. The senate applauded heartily when the bill passed.

There was practically "nothing doing," so the senators proceeded to get busy and clean up the calendar. Out of a total of twenty-four bills, twenty-one were passed.

A bill by Senator Stephens providing for the investment of school funds in county drainage bonds bearing 3 per cent interest was passed under suspension of the rules.

The house resolution for a joint committee to investigate the fee offices, with a view of putting them all on a salary basis, went over under notice of debate.

The following bills passed:

H. F. 9, Von Wald—Horse-stealing bounty.

H. F. 42, Sander—Allowing forestry board to purchase forestry lands.

H. F. 97, Lemon—Reimbursing Anthony Yoerg election contest expenses.

H. F. 105—A monument for Minnesota troops at Vicksburg.

H. F. 259, Cole—Providing election returns by registered mail.

H. F. 293, Fryberger—Listing real and personal property.

H. F. 332, R. T. Lewis—Confirming state's title to certain lands.

H. F. 435—Amending state insurance laws.

H. F. 473—Amending county organization law.

H. F. 537, Rider—Authorizing stock tunnels under roadways.

H. F. 556, Gillette—Allowing university to receive gifts.

H. F. 655, Rider—To legalize certain plat of Little Falls.

S. F. 275, Morgan—Codifying state game laws.

S. F. 309, Johnson—Legalizing conveyances separately made by husband and wife.

S. F. 375, Dart—Allowing assignment of outside judges where district judge is prejudiced.

S. F. 402, Stephens—Reimbursing owners of land damaged by state drainage operations.

S. F. 403, Stephens—Amending state drainage law.

S. F. 404, Stephens—Providing for aid of non-resident paupers.

S. F. 444—Defining larceny in certain cases.

H. F. 78, Krostue—Relating to county or town roads.

SHE TELLS STORY OF HUSBAND'S THREATS

Mrs. Nettie Lee Tells of Her Husband's Actions on Tuesday Evening Last.

WOULD KILL HER WITH GUN.

Threatened to Commit Deed and Take His Own Life by Same Means.

This morning in municipal court the case of the state against George Huey was called. Huey is charged with simple assault, the complaining witness being John Schieb. Both men live in East Brainerd. It seems that they got into an altercation over the fact that Schieb had slapped the defendant's son, claiming that the boy had thrown stones at him. Huey resented, they came together and the result was that Schieb got a buff on the jaw that put him down and out. The defendant was unrepresented by an attorney this morning and asked for a continuance until tomorrow morning. The case was therefore continued until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, the defendant furnishing a $25 cash bail.

Nick McHugh is the name of a man who answered to the charge of drunkenness this morning. He pleaded guilty and was given $7.40 or seven days in the city jail. He took the latter dose.

The case of the state against Lars L. Lee was the next called this morning. Lee is charged with assault with intent to kill, Mrs. Nettie Lee, his wife, being the complaining witness. It is another case where Attorney F. L. Bannan has been retained by the defense, County Attorney Crane appearing for the state.

The evidence adduced by the state this morning would indicate that there was a rather warm time at the Lee home in Nokay Lake township on Monday night and Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Lee was placed on the stand and she testified that on Monday her husband came to Brainerd, returning home about 11 o'clock at night, slightly under the influence of liquor. Immediately after coming home Lee commenced to make alcohol punches and as time advanced they began feeling jubilant. Witness testified that she was in bed upstairs and heard Lee go outside and shoot off a revolver one or two times. It was her first intimation that he had a gun at all. She went down stairs while they were outside and got two bottles of the alcohol and took them up stairs.

When Lee discovered that his liquor was gone he began to get wrathful and swore like a pirate.

Ole Stran was sleeping in the sitting room down stairs and Lee in passing through the room, flourished his revolver and told him to lie absolutely quiet or he would put him out of the business.

Lee then went up on the stairs leading to Mrs. Lee's bedroom and pulling the revolver on his wife demanded the alcohol. She testified that she got it for him very quickly.

He then went down stairs, and, according to the testimony of the witness, continued his drunken orgie.

After he got his fill of the liquor he amused himself for a few moments by shooting through the kitchen door, much to the fright of the occupants of the house. Finally he went up stairs and seated himself on the side of his wife's bed, and with the revolver in his hand said he was going to kill her, and then kill himself. He gave it out cold that there would have to be some killing done, and threatened her several times.

Mrs. Lee was formerly Mrs. Henry Mable. Mr. Mable died about two years ago and Mrs. Lee has been married to her present husband only about three months.

W. A. HUGGINS DEAD.

Secretary Low of the B. P. O. E. Receives Word from Texas of His Demise Last Sunday.

The death of William A. Huggins, a former well known Brainerdite, was announced last night at the meeting of Brainerd Lodge, B. P. O. E. It had been reported some days ago that he was dead but nothing definite was received until yesterday.

Mr. Huggins died at or near Dallas, Texas. He was afflicted with consumption although when he left this city a few years ago he was a man with very rugged health.

Deceased was at one time superintendent of the electric light plant at the Brainerd Lumber Co. mill. He was also employed by the city as superintendent of its plant for a short time before Supt. Peterson was engaged, succeeding Supt. Page.

He left here for the south and finally went to Arizona. Not much was heard of him until his death occurred. He was a member of Brainerd Lodge B. P. O. E.

WOULD CHANGE THE TERMS OF COURT

Judge McClenahan Forwards a Bill to Senator Ferris Affecting Crow Wing County.

WANTS MORE CONVENIENT TIME

For the Farmers of the County and will Fix Terms for May and December

Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, has drafted a bill and forwarded it to Senator A. P. Ferris amending the law which provides for two terms of the district court in this county.

The bill will, if it becomes a law, change the terms from February and July to the May and December, commencing the third Tuesday in the former month and the second Tuesday in the latter.

Heretofore when Judge McClenahan had the entire fifteenth judicial district the terms of court could not be held in any other months very well except February and July.

They were bad months for the farmers and for their benefit Judge McClenahan wishes to have them changed.

GAME LAW IS MODIFIED.

Morgan Game and Fish Law Passed the Senate Yesterday Morning—Sure to Pass House.

Nimrods will be relieved of various petty annoyances when the Morgan game and fish bill becomes a law. It passed the senate yesterday morning unanimously and is sure to pass the house.

This measure codifies and revises all the game, fish and hunting laws making a homogenous statute out of a sad mixture.

It fixes the license for non-resident hunters at $10 for small game and $25 for big game. The licenses are provided with coupons which may be attached to the game when shipped. Under the present law the owner must accompany the game from the field to his home. This law has created much feeling among the hunters, as officious game wardens have often subjected them to petty annoyances. A coupon will now do the same service as the owner in person.

The "game hog" is to be cut short. The present law limiting the number of chickens and quail killed in one day to 25 and aquatic fowl to 50 is re-enacted with the further provision that when an individual hunter has taken 50 chickens or quail or 100 ducks or geese he must quit shooting. "That's enough for anyone except a hog," declared Mr. Morgan yesterday.

Dean Farrar was Brilliant.

Collier's Weekly in speaking editorially of Dean Farrar, brother of Rev. C. E. Farrar of this city, says:

"The death of Dean Farrar (the Very Rev. Frederick William) occurred at Canterbury, Sunday, March 22. Dr. Farrar was born in 1831, and was the son of the Rev. C. F. Farrar, vicar of Sidcup, Kent. His collegiate career was a brilliant one, and at Trinity college he carried off the chief classical prizes, together with the Chancellor's medal for an English poem, an honor awarded to Tennyson in his university days. Dr. Farrar was widely known throughout all the English-speaking world, so widely known that it would be difficult to say to what particular achievement or qualities he owed this distinction. Upon his retirement from public schools he was made archdeacon of Westminster, and was subsequently appointed chaplain to Queen Victoria and to the speaker of the house of commons. In 1895 he was made Dean of Canterbury, which position he held until his death. Dr. Farrar was a prolific writer of a peculiarly fluid style, which to many obscured the reflecting religious trend of thought for which he was remarkable. The 'Life of Christ' is probably his best-known work."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSICALS.

Tomorrow night the public school entertainment will take place at the Brainerd opera house and the program will be an interesting one. The first and second parts will consist of songs by children from the various grades of the schools of the city, and the third part will be a light cantata "The Jolly Picnic Party." The synopsis of this cantata relates to a party of children who plan to go to a picnic and they invite grampa to look after them. The boys go after a girl named Annie and in the hurry and scurry the boys are forgotten. Later they follow, drawing Annie in a small wagon. The crowd finally gets together and they all enjoy a great day.

The curtain will rise at 8:15 and as it is quite a long program all will have to be in their seats on time.

"A TRIP TO CHINATOWN."

Hoyt's three act musical comedy, "A Trip to Chinatown" will be seen at the Brainerd theatre next Monday April 6th.

Hoyt's plays have always been noted for sparkling humor, pretty girls, the artistic finish of the specialties introduced, the smooth working of the stage business, its brilliant dressing, high class dancing and catchy music, and the management guarantees that the coming production of "A trip to Chinatown" will be fully up to the Hoyt standard. There is a little plot, just enough to interest one, which serves as a good excuse for the introduction of several unique characters.

May Ribs .....	9.75
July .....	9.55

Wheat—Wheat opened quiet and slightly lower today. Indifferent Liverpool cables and the heavy Argentine shipments together with fair northwest receipts, being the principal cause of the weakness at the opening and later on during the session.

Corn—The corn market was dull and featureless again today, prices slightly lower all around.

Oats—Oats showed considerable strength early, selling off later in sympathy with wheat and corn.

Provisions—Receipts of hogs at Chicago 22,000, market 5 cents lower. May and July pork steady to a shade lower on account of the weakness in corn.

Major Edwards at Montreal.

Montreal, April 2.—Major Allanson Edwards, the new United States consul general, has arrived here and will take over the office today. The new consul general, referring to the influx of Americans into Canada, said that from North Dakota alone 50,000 might be expected this year.

Organizer Mortally Wounded.

Chicago, April 2.—W. N. Castleman, an organizer of the International Sheet Metal Workers' union, was shot and probably mortally wounded while at a meeting of a grievance committee of the Chicago Federation of Labor. He was shot three times. His assailant is unknown.

Iowa Merchant Suicides.

Marshalltown, Ia., April 2.—Anticipating disgrace, Elmer S. Arney, a merchant at Ferguson, shot and killed himself. One hour later a sheriff arrived with a warrant charging forger.

ANXIOUS TO CLOSE IT UP.

Chairman P. M. Zakariassen Requests that Those Who Have Collected Monies for Sufferers Report at Once.

Chairman P. M. Zakariassen, who has had charge of the work of collecting funds in Crow Wing county for the famine sufferers in Finland, Sweden and Norway, requests that all those who have made collections and have not reported do so at once, as he is very anxious to close the matter up. Crow Wing county has responded to the call nobly.

The collections from Nokay Lake township were not reported in the list with others in THE WEEKLY DISPATCH. This township like many others responded liberally. G. F. Edquist, who had charge of the work, sent in $30.60 from this township.

A New Departure.

The ladies of Brainerd will be pleased to learn that Mrs. C. Grandemyer, 612, Front street, has made arrangements to do shampooing, hair-dressing, manicuring and give facial massage on short notice. If you wish restored beauty and the bloom of youth upon the cheek give us a call. 2554

DOCTRINE OF MONROE

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SPEAKS ON THE SUBJECT BEFORE
CHICAGO CROWD.

IN WESTERN HEMISPHERE

Our Entire Position in Relation to Sister Republics Set Forth—While It Is a Cardinal Feature of Our Foreign Policy, the Monroe Doctrine Is Not International Law—Venezuelan Affair Covered in the Address.

Chicago, April 3.—Six thousand people, in a hall the seating capacity of which is but 5,000, gave enthusiastic greeting to President Roosevelt when he stepped upon the stage of the Auditorium. The great building has held many a throng, but never one that was more hearty and unstinted in its applause for any man than this crowd.

After the announcement of the programme by Franklin MacVeagh and the brief address of welcome by Mayor Harrison, President Roosevelt thanked them and the audience for his cordial reception, and then delivered the following address:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:—Today I wish to speak to you, not merely about the Monroe doctrine, but about our entire position in the Western hemisphere—a position so peculiar and predominant that out of it has grown the acceptance of the Monroe doctrine as a cardinal feature of our foreign policy; and in particular I wish to point out what has been done during the lifetime of the last congress to make good our position in accordance with this historic policy.

Ever since the time when we definitely extended our boundaries westward to the Pacific and southward to the Gulf, since the time when the old Spanish and Portuguese colonies to the south of us asserted their independence, our nation has insisted that

Because of its Primacy in Strength among the nations of the Western hemisphere it has certain duties and responsibilities which oblige it to take a leading part thereon. We hold that our interests in this hemisphere are greater than those of any European power possibly can be, and that our duty to ourselves and to the weaker republics who are our neighbors requires us to see that none of the great military powers from across the seas shall encroach upon the territory of the American republics or acquire control thereover.

This policy, therefore, not only forbids us to acquiesce in such territorial acquisition, but also causes us to object to the acquisition of a control which would in its effect be equal to territorial aggrandizement. This is why the United States has steadily believed that the construction of the great Isthmian canal, the building of which is to stand as the greatest feat of the twentieth century—greater than any similar feat in any preceding century—should be done by no foreign nation, but by ourselves. The canal must of necessity go through the territory of one of our smaller sister republics. We have been scrupulously careful to abstain from perpetrating any wrong upon any of these republics in this matter.

After considerably more than half of a century these objects have been exactly fulfilled by the legislation and treaties of the last two years. By the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, ratified in December, 1901, an old treaty with Great Britain, which had been held to stand in the way, was abrogated and it was agreed that the canal be constructed under the auspices of the government of the United States, and that this government should have the exclusive right to regulate and manage it, becoming the sole guarantor of its neutrality.

Defense of the Canal.

It was expressly stipulated, furthermore, that this guaranty of neutrality should not prevent the United States from taking any measures which it found necessary in order to secure by its own forces the defense of the United States and the maintenance of public order. Immediately following this treaty congress passed a law under which the president was authorized to endeavor to secure a treaty for acquiring the right to finish the construction of, and to operate, the Panama canal, which had already been begun in the territory of Colombia by a French company. The rights of this company were accordingly obtained and a treaty negotiated with the republic of Colombia. This treaty has just been ratified by the senate. It reserves all of Colombia's rights, while guaranteeing all of our own and those of neutral nations, and specifically permits us to take any and all measures for the defense of the canal, and for the preservation of our interests, whenever in our judgment an exigency may arise which calls for action on our part. In other words, these two treaties, and the legislation to carry them out, have resulted in our obtaining on exactly the terms we desired the rights and privileges which we had so long sought in vain. These treaties are among the most important that we have ever negotiated in their effects upon the future welfare of this country, and mark a memorable triumph of American diplomacy—one of those fortunate triumphs, moreover, which redounds to the benefit of the entire world.

Venezuelan Affair.

About the same time trouble arose in connection with the republic of Venezuela because of certain wrongs alleged to have been committed, and debts overdue, by this republic to citizens of various foreign powers, notably England, Germany, and Italy.
After failure to reach an agreement these powers began a blockade of the Venezuelan coast and a condition of quasi-war ensued. The concern of our government was, of course, not to interfere needlessly in any quarrel so far as it did not touch our interests or our honor, and not to take the attitude of protecting from coercion any power unless we were willing to espouse the quarrel of that power, but to keep an attitude of watchful vigilance and see that there was no infringement of the Monroe doctrine—no acquirement of territorial rights by a European power at the expense of a weak sister republic—whether this acquisition might take the shape of an outright and avowed seizure of territory or of the exercise of control which would in effect be equivalent to such seizure. This attitude was expressed in the two following published memoranda, the first being the letter addressed by the secretary of state to the German ambassador, the second the conversation with the secretary of state reported by the British Ambassador:

The memorandum handed to Dr.
von Holleben, then German ambassador, is as follows:

"The president in his message of the 3d of December, 1901, used the following language:

"The Monroe doctrine is a declaration that there must be no territorial aggrandizement by any non-American power at the expense of any American power on American soil. It is in no wise intended as hostile to any nation in the Old World."

"The president further said:
"This doctrine has nothing to do with the commercial relations of any American power, save that it in truth allows each of them to form such as it desires. * * * We do not guarantee any state against punishment if it misconducts itself, provided that punishment does not take the form of the acquisition of territory by any non-American power."

No Intention of Seizing Territory.

"His excellency the German ambassador, on his recent return from Berlin, conveyed personally to the president the assurance of the German emperor that his majesty's government had no purpose or intention to make even the smallest acquisition of territory on the South American continent or the islands adjacent. This voluntary and friendly declaration was afterwards repeated to the secretary of state, and was received by the president and the people of the United States in the frank and cordial spirit in which it was offered.

"In the said memorandum of the 11th of December, the German government informs that of the United States that it has certain just claims for money and for damages wrongfully withheld from Venezuela, and that it proposes to take certain coercive measures described in the memorandum to enforce the payment of these just claims.

"The president of the United States, appreciating the courtesy of the German government in making him acquainted with the state of affairs referred to, and not regarding himself as called upon to enter into the consideration of the claims in question, believes that no measures will be taken in this matter by the agents of the German government which are not in accordance with the well-known purpose above set forth, of his majesty the German emperor."

Sir Michael Herbert to the Marquis of Lansdowne.

"Washington, November 13, 1902.
"I communicated to Mr. Hay this morning the substance of your lordship's telegram of the 11th instant.

Could Not Object to Steps Taken.

"His excellency stated in reply, that the United States government, although they regretted that European powers should use force against Central and South American countries, could not object to their taking steps to obtain redress for injuries suffered by their subjects, provided that no acquisition of territory was contemplated."

Both powers assured us in explicit terms that there was not the slightest intention on their part to violate the principles of the Monroe doctrine, and this assurance was kept with an honorable good faith which merits full acknowledgment on our part. At the same time, the existence of hostilities in a region so near our own borders was fraught with such possibilities of danger in the future that it was obviously no less our duty to ourselves than our duty to humanity to endeavor to put an end to that. Accordingly, by an offer of our good services in a spirit of frank friendliness to all the parties concerned, a spirit in which they quickly and cordially responded, we secured a resumption of peace—the contending parties agreeing that the matters which they could not settle among themselves should be referred to The Hague tribunal for settlement.

The Monroe doctrine is not international law, and though I think one day it may become such, this is not necessary as long as it remains a cardinal feature of our foreign policy and as long as we possess both the will and the strength to make it effective. This last point, my fellow-citizens, is all important, and is one which as a people we can

Never Afford to Forget.

I believe in the Monroe doctrine with all my heart and soul; I am convinced that the immense majority of our fellow-countrymen so believe in it; but I would infinitely prefer to see us abandon it than to see us put it forward and bluster about it, and yet fail to build up the efficient fighting strength which in the last resort can alone make it respected by any strong foreign power whose interest it may ever happen to be to violate it.

After deprecating brag and bluster and making a strong, earnest plea for a greater navy of the highest efficiency, the president said in conclusion:

It is too late to prepare for war when war has come; and if we only prepare sufficiently no war will ever come. We wish a powerful and efficient navy, not for purposes of war, but as the surest guaranty of peace.
If we have such a navy—if we keep on building it up—we may rest assured that there is but the smallest chance that trouble will ever come to this nation; and we may likewise rest assured that no foreign power will ever quarrel with us about the Monroe doctrine.

Immediately preceding his address in the Auditorium, President Roosevelt was entertained at dinner in the banquet hall of the Auditorium by the members of the local entertainment committee. About 150 guests were present.

At midnight the president's train pulled out for Madison, Wis.

CALL AND LET US TELL YOU ABOUT IT.

Here is a letter that has just come to our attention. It will interest people suffering from bronchial troubles. It is from Mr. Geo. W. Brown, of So. Hanover, N. H., and reads as follows:
"I have suffered with bronchial troubles for over a year; tried two doctors and have taken three or four kinds of medicine, none of which did me any good. At times I was so hoarse I could not speak. Then I heard of Vinol. After taking three bottles of it my voice has perfectly returned to me. I can see that in a short time I will be all right. When I began to take it I was very weak, but it has built me up and given me a good appetite."

This is what Vinol always does.
This is the way Vinol accomplishes its mission of doing good.
Vinol, as we wish every one to know, owes its power of accomplishing the cures that it effects to the fact that it contains the most wonderful medicinal elements known to science for the cure of all wasting diseases, as well as being in itself a marvelous tonic. These medicinal properties exist and have heretofore been found only in cod-liver oil.
Vinol contains these elements. For by a scientific process the necessary curative properties of the cod-liver oil have been separated from the fat and grease which formerly made cod-liver oil preparations so objectionable.

As long as Vinol does not contain any of the vile-smelling oil, and is prepared by combining the sought-after properties with a delicate table wine, it is a most delicious and palatable preparation.
We know of what we speak when we recommend Vinol, and because we do know that Vinol does all we claim for it, we unhesitatingly endorse it, and guarantee at any time to refund the money paid for the remedy if you are not satisfied it will do all we claim for it.

"How does young Swift manage to uncork so much champagne? He doesn't earn any money."
"Well, he pulls the same cork over and over."
"Why, how do you mean?"
"Has a rich uncle with a cork leg."
